

ITP499 : FROM IDEAS TO IMPACT

2 UNITS
MONDAYS, 5-7 PM

THE NEW CLASSROOM

ITP499 is an experimental, project-based class organized by Mike Lee and the leaders of SPARK SC.

IMPACT

Work on high-impact, high-success projects that unite, inspire, and EMPOWER USC and the surrounding communities.

ENGAGE

Meet with critical members of the USC community, like PROVOST MICHAEL QUICK, to identify the most urgent problems on campus.

CONNECT

Learn from students that have founded organizations like Spark SC and LavaLab, worked at companies like SNAPCHAT, NASA, AND UBER, and created applications like GBA4iOS.

EXPERIENCE

Have the opportunity to visit the Bay Area's most innovative companies on a TRIP TO SILICON VALLEY. This year, expect to meet innovative leaders from the likes of Y Combinator, KPCB, and Khan Academy.

Take the only class at USC organized by students.

Work on projects with an impact across USC.

Discuss problems on campus with Michael Quick in-class.

Learn from students who learned from top companies.

KPCB

Meet influencers in the Valley like Mary Meeker.
